Integrity Auto specializes in the service of European cars, but repairs all makes and models including vintage automobiles. In addition, the business is certified in hybrid and alternative fueled vehicles. In 1991 the business was featured in Business magazine and USA Today as a “green garage”, the first in the area.

Owner Mark Benson and a partner started the business in Allentown in 1987 at a rented 2 bay garage. He eventually took over the business and moved to Kuhnsville in 1997. The business remained there until 2010 when he built a new facility in New Tripoli.

Per Mark, “I think in comparison to the typical independent repair shop, we tend to be friendlier, and we really try to go above and beyond customers expectations. Everybody gets treated like they are part of the family. Additionally we have the best warranty on repairs.” One of the reasons for their success is their staff-in particular, Abby Kucyn. “Abby is my service advisor and shop manager. She has been with me for 13 years and started here as an auto technician. She is probably my greatest asset and the customers love her.”

Mark eventually wants to “start a car care clinic teaching people the basics of car maintenance and become more involved in community and charitable events.”

Finding a good mechanic can be a daunting task. The staff at Integrity Auto is dedicated to providing the service that you deserve. Make sure you contact them at Phone: 610-298-2190 Fax: 610-298-2191 Website: myiauto.com
