

BOTM for DECEMBER 2010

The business of the month for December is Keystone Technology, LLC. They are located at 2673 Kirk St. Slatington, PA 18080.

Keystone Technology LLC provides information technology (IT) consulting, computer installation and computer maintenance to homes, home office, and small business.

Andy Gildner is the owner and founder of the business which was started in 2003. Brad Shelly is the Lead System Technician, and Kathy Gildner is the office manager. Understanding the needs and desires of its customers while still offering good pricing for services and computer components is what makes Keystone Technology unique.

Keystone Technology wants to continue to provide quality services to all of their clients. Andy tells me without our clients they could never have been so successful.

“Keystone Technology keeps our businesses running. In fact, this article was written on a computer that Keystone Technology sold and installed, and this article was submitted using a secure network developed and installed by Keystone Technology.” - Gary Fedorcha, Past President Greater Northern Lehigh Chamber of Commerce.
